1. Pluto in Capricorn square Moon/Jupiter in Taurus.
2. Pluto square the Lunar Nodes (waning).
3. Triangle with Chiron semisextile Uranus, Uranus quincunx Mars, and Mars trine Chiron.
4. Saturn, Moon/Jupiter, and Sun/Mercury triangle.

The World

- Several planets retrograde throughout the fall are internalizing most planetary drives and creating a sense of inertia.
- None of the outer planet from Jupiter on are in air signs now. But in 2024, Pluto will move into Aquarius and Jupiter will move into Gemini, and this will stimulate new ideas and creativity.
- A sextile between Neptune in Pisces and Uranus in Taurus with each making a semisextile to Chiron in Aries will prevail throughout much of fall 2023. Thus, compassion and economic creativity will work together to adjust to wounding from fiery situations such as war and global warming.
- Mars in Libra opposite Chiron in Aries and both near the Lunar Nodes may signal some conflict around the fall equinox.
- Uranus in Taurus trine Pluto in Capricorn with Neptune in Pisces sextile each will endure throughout much of the fall as compassion and economic creativity engage with authoritarian individuals.

- Pluto in Capricorn squaring the Lunar Nodes throughout much of the fall intensifies situations involving autocrats and dictators.
- Wounding and tensions with authoritarian figures may intensify around the October 14th solar eclipse with both Sun and Moon square Pluto and opposite Chiron.
- Saturn in Pisces opposite Venus in Virgo during the October 14 solar eclipse will curb the pursuit of pleasure for many as their dreams conflict with the details of reality.
- Sun/Mercury/Mars in Scorpio opposite Moon in Taurus during the Lunar Eclipse on October 28 suggests opposition between strongly held desires and the pursuit of economic stability.
- However, Saturn trine Sun and sextile the Moon during the October 28 Lunar Eclipse will help to control and stabilize things.
- By the winter solstice, things may stabilize even further as Saturn in Pisces makes strong sextiles to Sun and Mercury in Capricorn and Moon and Jupiter in Taurus.
- Continual aspect to Chiron in Aries throughout the fall will keep wounding from wars and global warming on the front burner.
