Summary:

World

- The New Moon on January 18th will be one of the most harmonious I've seen with almost all of the planets involved in a minor grand trine. It may foreshadow the day of Great Harmony that will occur on July 21.
- Saturn in Pisces sextile Uranus in Taurus will be strong for most of the rest of January. This will foster plans to make innovation related to finances and resources a concrete reality.
- Starting in the second week of February, Saturn gets within 1 degree of its February 20th exact conjunction with Neptune, and this conjunction will likely change the world more than any other within my lifetime since it's in the first degree of Aries which hasn't happened since 4361 BCE. Effects of this conjunction began in January 2025 when Trump began dismantling the American government and democracy, and they've continued with America's removal of President Maduro from Venezuela and protests in Iran. Throughout this year and the next, I expect more structures to dissolve.

World

- Mars conjunct Pluto in Aquarius on January 27th could result in violence around that time, but I'm personally expecting an increase in protests from the people. This occurs just two days after the 1st Quarter Moon, and on that day there will be three powerful conjunctions – Mars conjunct Pluto, Moon conjunct Uranus, and Saturn conjunct Neptune. It could be a day of upheavals, protests, and revolution.
- The Lunar Month ends with a Solar Eclipse on February 17th, just three days before the Saturn/Neptune conjunction. Uranus will be making a strong square to the Sun and Moon on February 17, and that can set the stage for disruption, chaos, revolution, and other fast-moving events.

Summary:

America

- With progressed Sun square natal Mars all year long using the July 2, 1776, chart for America, it is expected that America's aggressive tendencies will be unleashed both at home and abroad. Also, this square will become exact in November shortly after midterm elections. Thus, there is a heightened risk of violence around that time.
- With transiting Neptune strongly square natal Venus, people will likely continue to feel that the philosophies that leaders are espousing do not fit with their values. Beginning around the second week of February, transiting Saturn will also square natal Venus creating additional feelings of oppression and that the country is headed in the wrong direction. Saturn's aspect to Venus will be exact on the day of the Solar Eclipse on February 17th.
- The transiting Lunar Nodes will be square natal Uranus for the entire lunar month. This can intensify feelings of revolution, and transiting Mars may exacerbate things when it is conjunct natal Pluto on the 20th and conjunct the natal Lunar Nodal Axis on the 31st.

America

- Transiting Uranus will be trine natal Pluto for the entire lunar month, and transiting Saturn will sextile natal Pluto until the end of January. Pluto represents those who have power, but in America power is given to the people. Hence, Saturn and Uranus and Pluto will form a minor grand trine, and we may see more people protesting at this time and taking back control of their country. And with transiting Uranus still in Taurus, these aspects may bode well for Americans financially.

Summary:

Trump

- With transiting Uranus square his natal Mars for the entire lunar month, Trump will continue to be angry and act impulsively and erratically.
- With transiting Chiron square his 11th House natal Saturn which is also the ruler of his 6th House, Trump could encounter health problems or difficulties working with others beginning in the last week of January. Also, ailments related to the cardinal axis are a possibility. These include stomach problems, adrenal or circulatory or head problems, kidney problems, or structural or knee problems.
- Transiting Jupiter square natal Jupiter for most of the lunar month could lead to exaggerated actions that are unrealistic.
- Transiting Mars opposite natal Pluto on February 5th could result in anger or trouble for Trump.
- However, a sextile from transiting Chiron to natal Sun will bring much needed healing, and a trine from the transiting North Node to natal Mercury will enable good communication. These aspects will be in effect for the entire lunar month.
