Summary:

World

- The first week of the lunar month looks rather quiet in terms of major transits.
- However, the last few days of June and the first week of July may see more wounding (Jupiter square Chiron) and sudden violence, protest, or revolution (Mars conjunct Uranus).
- Once we get into July, the minor grand trine between Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto will begin to get quite strong, and people's perspectives are already beginning to change resulting in a greater awareness of how we are all connected.
- Sun, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Chiron are all changing signs this month, and that will produce definite shifts in how people view various things. For example, Sun in Cancer puts a focus on home and personal security, Venus in Virgo will probably put more emphasis on attending to the practical necessities we need, Mars in Gemini can lead to either intellectual stimulation or arguments, Jupiter in Leo will put an emphasis on expanding one's own creativity and enjoyment, and Chiron in Taurus may lead us to try and heal our broken economic system.
- And finally, both Mercury and Neptune will turn retrograde around the first week of July suggesting a pause to reconsider some of the visions we've been pursuing.
- Change (Uranus) and wounding or healing (Chiron) will be major themes for this month.
