Jousting for position can be the order of the day during this period, and you may find the competition gets stiff until everybody gets their territory. The trick is to avoid permanent conflicts that could haunt you later. Life can be a tournament, but it shouldn't be a war. So be ready to take as well as you give and don't stubbornly grasp at what's not worth fighting for. You'll more likely find a position by repositioning than by siege or going down with the ship. Winning is about survival, not conquest -- you needn't be the last or only one left standing at the end of the day. It's all about if you fell down, did you get up?

Mars Conjunct Sun (Retrograde)

Just when you thought you had all your energies packaged and pointed in one direction, you might find that things may scatter and get away from you for a while as Mars pauses for a retreat on your natal Sun. At first, this may seem like an inconvenience and can have a flustering effect on the best-laid plans, but in the long run it will cause you to realign your personality powers and drop what drains your vim and vigor in favor of what promotes it. You can't please everybody, so you've got to please yourself, and the coming months will flesh out what really works for you.

Mars Conjunct Uranus (Retrograde)

Mars pulling back from your Uranus may save you from hasty decisions, but it might not seem that way at first. The urge to jump into the fray can be so strong that you miss the obvious. Take the time to retool your ingenuity and develop the practical side of your inspirations before putting them to the test without a safety net. Test not only your accelerator, but your brakes, so you have full control before you charge ahead -- you'll be thankful you did. Develop greater precision and accuracy before you fire, or you'll waste ammo. One shot at your target will be all you need, if you take more careful aim.

Mars Stationary Direct in 10th House

Throwing your energies into various forms of self-promotion may have yielded not much forward motion lately, but a turnaround is now becoming available if you corral your energies and choose a single plan of operations. Single-minded career efforts will find reward and you will be judged by your level of commitment to your own exertions. Believe in yourself and follow word with deeds -- it's the proof of the pudding where others are concerned. Where you make an impression with manifested self-confidence, there you will find fast friends and lasting connections.

Mars Conjunct Uranus

Mars turning about on your Uranus can bring unexpected discoveries and, unless you play it easy, a stop-and-go, bumpy ride. Expect the spigot to be off or on and not much in between for a while, a sputtering rhythm that can be fun if you go with it, but annoying if you try to buck it. Allow yourself to be catapulted to where you're going and you'll go further -- like a roller coaster, it's best to let it take you wherever it goes, even if you shriek a little. At the end of the ride you'll be back with your feet on the ground and requests to go another round.

Mars Conjunct Sun

Mars turning direct on your Sun can redirect a lot of energy that has lately been diluted or drained off by dead-ends and non-starters. The time for deciding the chosen path and the commitment to go with it is enhanced by regained enthusiasm and focus. If there is any downside, it could be that you burn too hot and risk overshooting the mark until you've got a handle on the new situation. Avoid involving your ego when what you want is a job well done, and be prepared for impacts that can be absorbed as long as you are not too close to the subject.

A period of changeability and shifting focus has turned the corner and you will increasingly know better which choices are viable and which are not. Provisional projects will turn into final directions; distractions will be identified and pushed aside. Wherever you do wind up going, don't simply forget the road not taken, the path decided against. Keep them in your memory bank as they may turn up in other guises later and you'll already be halfway there. Follow through on what looks like a winner now, but don't let seemingly wasted time be forever lost by throwing away its fruits. Act selectively, but retain all.

Sometimes painting life with a broad brush can cause you to miss messy details that then slow you down. The next three weeks are a great time to pause and make sure the rug rats and ankle biters are not in a position to sidetrack your whole operation because you ignored them. It's time to give the small things their due so they can serve your larger purpose. By doing so, you may discover a better version of your own vision as well. Don't hurry, you've got time, and you may find that in the end tapping resources you had ignored will trigger a rising tide that floats all boats, not just your own.

A period of being rather afloat in your desires is beginning to pass. You can't always get what you want -- but you generally have to know what you want in order to give it your best shot. Right now, however, you may find that the best decision is no decision at all. Leaving things alone to grow or to be handled by circumstance may be preferable to what might otherwise be uneducated guesses. It may be better to commune with yourself for a while and decide later. It can be better to be motionless and still, so you can feel the wind changing, than to row in the wrong direction.
